

VIRGINIA WINS IN TRACK MEET

A Substantial Victory Over the North Carolina Team on Yesterday.

FIVE RECORDS ARE BROKEN

Southern Record in the Half-Mile Was Lowered to Two Minutes.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va., May 8.—The Virginia track team won a substantial victory over North Carolina to-day, in the second dual track meet between the two institutions, the final score being, Virginia, 69, North Carolina, 27. Though the track was somewhat slow, no fewer than five Southern intercollegiate records were broken and a sixth equalled. The records fell in the mile, half mile, low hurdles, high hurdles and pole vault, while that in the 220-yard dash was equalled.

Southern Record Lowered.

McNagney, a freshman from the Culver Military Academy, lowered the Southern record in the half-mile to two minutes, 5.4 seconds, while Shelton cut down that in the quarter-mile to 51.5 seconds.

Taylor, a youngster from the Louisville High School, furnished another surprise in the pole vault, which he won with a leap of 16 feet, seven inches. This distance he made in the first attempt and could probably have equalled, had Coach Williams permitted him to try further for a better record.

Burke, who was a member of Virginia's victorious relay team, at Philadelphia ten days ago, showed up well in the 100-yard dash, his first attempt and promises to be a factor in the Hopkins meet at Baltimore next week.

The 220-yard dash was one of the prettiest events of the day and the judges could hardly separate the two Virginia men, who had a good lead over their opponents.

A Beautiful Race.

Captain Bass ran a beautiful race in the 100-yard dash, being closely pressed by Smith and the Carolina foot-ball stars, Jacks and Newton. The meet was without doubt the most successful ever held at the University.

AN EDUCATIONAL RALLY IN AMHERST

Captain Vawter Strongly in Favor of Compulsory Education.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
AMHERST, Va., May 8.—The educational rally held here to-day was quite a success. Hon. J. Taylor Elyson, of Richmond, and Captain C. E. Vawter, principal of the Miller Labor and Manual School, of Albemarle county, delivered addresses to the crowd assembled. After the regular meeting speeches were also made by Mr. H. E. Miller, of the Lynchburg News; Mr. A. E. Storde and Rev. A. P. Gray. The meeting was presided over by Mr. C. L. Scott, district superintendent of schools of Amherst county, who introduced the speakers.

Dr. Elyson made an able plea for better paid teachers, better schoolhouses and longer terms. Captain Vawter's speech was very much enjoyed by the present. He came out in favor of compulsory education and argued in favor of manual training in the schools.

After the meeting a county teachers' association was organized, with the following officers: President, Mrs. Alexander Miller, Miss Ora Hill; Mr. John Watts, secretary, and treasurer, J. C. Long.

Dr. E. A. Alderman, president of the University of Virginia, has been advised to be present at the educational rally to-day, but was detained by illness. A telegram was received announcing his intense regret at not being able to be present and expressing his deepest sympathy with the meeting. A resolution expressing the regret of the assembly at the absence of Dr. Alderman and inviting him to be present in Amherst at a later date was passed by the meeting.

SWANSON IN LOUISIA.

Created Much Enthusiasm Among a Large Crowd.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
LOUISIA, La., Va., May 8.—The first political meeting of the campaign was held in Louisa to-day, when Congressman Swanson appeared before the people and in clear language discussed his position as candidate for Governor.

The square of the Hotel Louisa was filled with enthusiastic people, in every word he shows his enthusiasm for the better education of all classes of citizens. He promised his earnest support for better educational facilities. He recognized the fact that better roads are needed in Virginia and said that if he were elevated to the high dignity of the governorship, he would certainly support and give to the county of Louisa the better roads she needed.

Whereas Lieutenant-Governor Willard seemed to be the favorite before, there was such a change of feeling, to-day that Mr. Swanson seems to be the choice of the people now.

"Let me have a chance and I will give you what you want," he declared. Such enthusiasm was never shown—this old county.

CITY COUNCIL OF PETERSBURG

Reduced Tax on Bucket Shops Passed Over Mayor's Veto.

ARRESTED FOR HAVING FITS

About Twelve Hundred White Voters in the City.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
PETERSBURG, Va., May 8.—The section of the license tax ordinance reducing tax on dealers in futures from three to two hundred dollars was passed by the Board of Aldermen this evening over the Mayor's veto in concurrence with the Council. The action was only a formality, as the Mayor has recently expressed his willingness to withdraw his veto, but did not notify the clerk of the Council before the meeting last week.

When the license tax ordinance was passed including the vetoed section which necessitated action of the Aldermen, Mayor Jones at the time expressed his disapproval of bucket shops as an evil which should be heavily taxed.

The special committee of Councilmen and Aldermen appointed to plan extension and improvement of sewers and sidewalks has not completed its report.

The Aldermen concurred in Council's passage of ordinance providing for immediate dismissal of any policeman guilty of drunkenness.

Cartor R. Bishop was appointed a member of the Battlefield Park Commission. A fit fakir is the latest novelty in town. A young man giving his name as E. J. Starr, from Greenville, South Carolina, was arrested by Policeman George Liss morning for having counterfeit fits in churches and other public places. He has been attended by doctors who have pronounced him a fraud.

Starr is said to have worked his game in other places and received money from charitable people.

THE VOTERS.
Between fourteen and fifteen hundred white and colored voters have qualified to vote. This number does not include Confederate veterans, who are entitled to vote without prepayment of taxes. The majority of the veterans have paid.

City Treasurer Slaughter gave the above estimate this afternoon, but has not had time to complete the list of voters, a large number of whom did not pay their poll taxes until last Saturday, the final day on which they could pay. It is estimated that the entire vote of the city is about twelve hundred.

The Central State Hospital Special Board of Visitors met yesterday. O. D. Batchelor, of Portsmouth, whose term has expired, has declined reappointment to the board. Dr. J. C. Williams, of Richmond, and Robert Gilliam, of this city, attended the meeting. Dr. W. P. Drewry, superintendent of the Central State Hospital, has returned from San Antonio, Texas, where he attended a convention of medical specialists.

A number of Petersburg Elks will attend the unveiling ceremonies in Hollywood Cemetery to-morrow.

WATSON ESTATE.
Messrs. John and Robert Watson, eldest sons of the late Robert L. Watson, to-day qualified as administrators of their father's estate, which is valued at $250,000. There was no will.

Chief of Police Ragland announced that he will now require the city ordinance requiring all street gates to open within.

Special meetings, conducted by the Rev. W. W. Vines, of Norfolk, began to-night at the First Baptist Church. A large church service has been organized by Mr. Hartley to lead the singing.

HEAD FIRST INTO MOAT OF THE FORT

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

OLD POINT COMFORT, Va., May 8.—First Lieutenant M. R. Ross, United States army, was drowned in the moat at Fortress Monroe early yesterday morning.

The young officer was riding on a bicycle along the pavement inside the casemate on the eastern side of the fort. He was on his way to the encampment of his company, Seventy-ninth Infantry, which was located just above the moat.

It is supposed that the wheel struck a large stone, for the chain came off and the lieutenant was thrown over into the moat.

The sentry heard the noise and ran to the spot. He found the bicycle, and seeing what had happened, gave the alarm. The moat was dragged and soon the lifeless body of the young officer was recovered.

Lieutenant Ross was a native of Somerville, Sumner county, Pa., and was well known and popular all over the Peninsula, as well as among the men at the fort and his brother officers. He was a graduate of the Pennsylvania State College. Last year he graduated with honors in the class at the Fort Monroe Artillery School.

The body was shipped to Somerville this afternoon after a military funeral had been conducted by the fort chaplain, Rev. Charles Wakely.

SEVEN BATTLESHIPS RACE UP THE COAST

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

NEWPORT NEWS, Va., May 8.—The battleships Missouri, Maine, Kearsarge, Kentucky and Iowa arrived in Hampton Roads Sunday from Pensacola, after an exciting race up the coast.

The race started Saturday morning at 8 o'clock, and the above named ships, with the battleships Alabama and Massachusetts, steamed for four hours under natural draft. The ships finished the four-hour run in the following order: Missouri, Maine, Kearsarge, Kentucky, Iowa, Massachusetts and Alabama.

Then for four hours the fleet ran under forced draft. At the finish of this run the ships were in the same order, except that the Kearsarge had passed the Maine and was closely following the Missouri. Under forced draft the Kearsarge maintained an average speed of 17.35 knots, breaking the record for 16 knot ships. She gained 1,580 yards on the Maine.

The Alabama went to New York and the Massachusetts to Philadelphia. The Maine, Missouri and Iowa stopped at Point, and the Kentucky and Kearsarge came here.

The vessels will remain in local waters for a month, going out to the maneuvering grounds for several days every week.

METHODIST WOMEN IN FREDERICKSBURG

The Leading Address by Miss Bennett on the Work of the Society.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
FREDERICKSBURG, Va., May 8.—The annual sermon before the Woman's Home Missionary Society of the Fredericksburg Methodist Church was preached Sunday in the Methodist Church here by Rev. J. H. Light, the pastor. The sermon was an able and eloquent one, having particular reference to the work of this useful and deserving organization, and the service was held at which Mrs. C. A. Hawkins, of Roanoke, presided, and the exercises were most interesting.

At night the prayer services were conducted by Rev. E. W. Jeffries, and an address was delivered by Miss Bennett on "The Work Our Home Mission Society is Doing."

The sessions of the society convened again to-day. The business of the morning was devoted to reports of officers, which, while interesting, were only of a routine nature. The noon day prayer service, just before adjournment for dinner, was conducted by Mrs. Gallaher. The society resumed at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, with prayer by Mrs. Robinson, followed by reports of secretaries and auxiliaries. The round table talk was led by Mrs. H. Kuhlmann, of Chesapeake, Va., assisted by Miss Grace Jeffries, of Washington. The principal subject was "Local Work Done by Our Home Mission Society." The closing prayer was offered by Mrs. Frampton.

The night service was given over principally to reports of officers, and the prayer by Mrs. C. M. Hawkins, of Roanoke, on "The Prayer Basis of Home Missions," and the other by Miss W. Wilson, subject, "Untilled Fields of Our Conference."

Musical selections were rendered. Mr. George Mason, prominent young attorney of Washington, has announced his candidacy for the House of Delegates from Westmoreland and Northumberland counties, subject to the Democratic primary.

W. O. Hardin was tried last week in Lancaster county for violation of the local option laws. Justice James fined him $300 and a jail sentence of ten days. An appeal was taken.

The schooner had been chartered by Captain Wm. T. Haynes and Mr. R. C. Cardon, owners of the steamer, in Gray, to take the schooner to the river in King and Queen county at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. He is preaching for Rev. J. A. Sullivan while he is holding evangelistic services for two weeks with the First Baptist Church, in Washington, N. C.

Prof. J. H. Hunter, of Richmond College, delivered the last of the University Extension Court of Lectures, given during the winter and spring by the faculty of Richmond College, at the Baptist Church, May 6th. His subject, "Christianity in Every Day Life," with experiments was greatly enjoyed.

Mr. Fleischman Will be Left in the Navy by His Parents.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
NORFOLK, Va., May 8.—Commander William G. Cutler, of the cruiser Galveston, is indignant at the publicity the press has given to the affairs of the vessel. When asked to-day for a statement in regard to the charges of ill treatment by the men, he refused to talk any further. "I want no more backbiting in the newspapers," he declared, "something unkind." The record put out to the men for the cruiser is: In commission, sixty days; duty, forty days; in port, thirty-five; summary court-martial, thirty-three; general court-martial, one.

Commander Cutler says he will report to the Navy Department.

He is charged with desertion, because he supposed he was to be sent to the Philippines. Mrs. Fleischman says:

"At Washington Saturday I was unable to see Secretary of the Navy Morton, but I had a long talk with the assistant acting Secretary, Mr. Wilson, who told me that we might be very regretful in the end if we sought to take our boy from the navy by force. He said that another interview with Leo at the navy yard to-day that he really wanted to remain as an enlisted man, and that if he would be to his best interest to let him remain. After our return to New York we will discuss the matter further with our friends there, and as to what course we may pursue in the future we, of course, cannot say at this time."

"This, however, is our intention. Inquire we have been informed that with hard study, such as would equip him for the required capacity to enter the United States Naval Academy, at Annapolis. This would mean that he would be the equal of the best of the naval officers, and possibly an admiral in the navy in time. This would be just lovely, and we would be charmed if he should do this, which we really think is in his mind to do."
